NOW! STOP HAIR LOSS GROW MORE HAIR IF YOU DON'T SUFFER FROM MALE PATTERN BALDNESS

Itchy scalp, hair loss, dandruff, very dry or oily scalp are warning symptoms of a scalp disease called seborrhea. To neglect these symptoms, is to invite baldness.

Seborrhea is believed caused by three parasitic germ organisms — staphylococcus albus, pityrosporum ovale, microbacillus. First, these germs infect the sebacious glands, later they attack the hair follicles. The damage is permanent. The follicles atrophy, lose their power to make new hairs. The result: "thinning" hair and early baldness.

But seborrhea can be controlled, quickly and effectively. Today there is no reason for thousands of men and women to lose their hair needlessly and prematurely to seborrhea. A few home treatments with Ward's Formula, a scalp medicine, stops this cause of hair loss. Nature is given a chance to grow more hair for you.

In seconds, Ward's Formula kills the three germs. This is proved in scientific tests by an independent testing laboratory (copy of report will be sent on request). Ward's removes infectious dandruff, stops scalp itch, brings hair-nourishing blood to the scalp, corrects very dry or oily hair. Ward's controls seborrhea and stops the hair loss it causes.

Ward's has been tried by more than 550,000 men and women on our famous Double-Your-Money-Back-Guarantee. Only 1.9% of these men and women asked for their double refund. This is an amazing performance record.

If you suffer from these seborrheic symptoms, order Ward's Formula. Try it at our risk. In 10 days you must see and feel the improvement in your hair and scalp. Dandruff must be gone. Scalp itch must stop. Hair must look vital and alive. Best of all, hair loss from seborrhea must end.

In 10 days, you must be completely satisfied with the results in your own case, or return the unused portion for prompt double refund. Every day's delay costs you more hair. Order Ward's today and start treatment the day you receive it. Why not enjoy a good head of hair — at no risk?

Note: Doctors and hospitals can obtain professional samples of Ward's Formula on written request.

Male pattern baldness is the cause of the great majority of cases of baldness and excessive hair loss, for which neither the Ward treatment nor any other treatment is effective.

CAPTAIN COREY'S CURIOSITY CORNER

Have a Hike

Part of my boyhood was spent in a country area. If I wanted to visit another boy I had to use my feet to get there. Sometimes a friendly farmer on the road would give me a lift. There was a swimming hole several miles from where we lived. So we would walk there, take our dip in the refreshing water, and then walk back. But today the automobile has changed our entire way of life. If we want to get anyplace we just hop in the car and let it do the work for us. However a lot of boys and girls are sort of rediscovering the pleasures connected with a hike.

Before you get any idea in your head that you can take one of those nice long hikes you have to use some common sense about it. First of all you have to condition your feet. Which means you take a short hike first. Then each time a little longer walk. Next you want to get good socks and a good pair of hiking shoes. Otherwise your feet will sort of have a burning and uncomfortable sensation.

Next you want to plan your hike. This means you want to know the route you are going to take and the approximate distance so you can figure out a sensible time schedule. I will concede that sometimes you do have to be something of an explorer. For then you might come across paths that seem to have long since been forgotten. There is a large park wooded area not far from where we live. So we took a hike through it. And we did find old paths that once had felt the impressions of many feet. But this can also present problems. Because in one of these "exploring hikes" we came to a stream with the bridge removed! And we had to take a long detour to get onto the other side.

Before you take a hike see if you can check on any historical sites that may be along the route. We visited several old houses that dated back to Revolutionary War days. And take a camera with you. We had pictures of old and new farms and there certainly was a contrast. A day in the open air does give you an appetite and so you have to consider the problem of food.

You can take with you a canteen or water and a small vacuum bottle. And also two sandwiches, and some cake. But you have to be careful that your food doesn't spoil in hot weather. Or you might figure on stopping at some roadside lunch place and getting something there to eat. If on your route there is a park with cooking facilities you can take hot dogs and rolls with you. But if you aren't careful you will find you can load yourself up with a lot of pots and pans. We passed a group of six boy hikers and they had all kinds of utensils hanging from their belts.

You can start off on a bright sunny morning for your hike and then all of a sudden run into a thunder storm. Don't go under a tree! It is safer to stay out in the open field and get soaked than to take the risk of being hit by lightning under that tree. Today you can purchase very light weight plastic raincoats. These can be folded and carried in a very small package or in a knapsack. One of my friends wears a pair of rainproof trousers and thus only carries a rain jacket with him.

You should also have with you a small first aid kit. We made one from a leather carrying case and keep it attached to the belt around the waist. If you can't recognize poison ivy-you better get a book on it and learn how to spot it before you touch it by mistake. And don't look at running water in a stream and decide it looks so nice and pure that you must drink it! This can really cause trouble.

Under the law you may not go across a man's property without his consent. A farmer may or may not give you permission to hike and rest on his land. This is up to him. I admit there may be a short cut across private land but don't take it unless you get an o.k. first from the owner.

You can carry with you a very small fishing rod or just a line and a hook. If it is fresh water fishing you might want to do from the side of a stream you better check on the fishing regulations of your state. See the age limit at which a boy or girl must have a fresh water license. On one of our hikes we went to the seashore and did our salt water fishing from a rock jetty. We were able to purchase bait in a nearby store.

We carry with us a small pocket transistor radio. When we rest we listen to some music or to a sports broadcast. But if you listen to it every minute on the hike you will miss some enjoyable sights. And you can really stay home and listen. The hike is for the exercise and also to get a good look at what is surrounding you. So plan on your hike real soon.

A is for Australia.

The year the Constitution of the Unted States was ratified, 11 ships sailed from England under the command of Captain Arthur Philip of the Royal Navy. They carried about a thousand passengers bound for the other side of the world to settle a new land. Eight months later after a voyage of 16,000 smiles-there weren't any Suez or Panamal Canals in those days-they put in at Botany Bay in southeast Australia. It wasn't a good spot for a permanent settlement so they moved on along the coast, finally stopping at the site of what is now Australia's largest city, Sydney.

In a left-handed ways, the United States had something to do with the settlement of Australia. You see, England in the early days used to send its surplus convicts to America. But after the colonies had declared their independence, the British had to find some other place to send convicts from their over-crowded jails. Nearly half of the first group to land on the new continent were prisoners. Men who were on the wrong side in politics, or had got into debt, or tangled with the harsh laws of the time in some other way. All told, in the first 40 or 50 years of the settlement of Australia, England shipped over about 160,000 so-called convicts but the traffic was stopped in 1868.

For 50 years, the colonies of New South Wales-the first settlement around Sydney-stayed close to the coastal area except for a few expeditions by boat along the east line. The Blue Mountains, behind Sydney, kept the settler from penetrating into the interior of the continent. Until in 1813, three pioneers seeking a new pasture for their growing herds, found a pass over the range and discovered the great grasslands on the other side. Gradually, in the next 60 years, a small group of inquisitive courageous men, explored the continent. Men like our own Lewis and Clark who helped open up the West.

The population grew slowly in the early years. Until a big gold strike was made in the Bathurst District of New South Wales. Not long after other gold fields were found. In Ball arat, once the richest gold mine in the Kalgoorie in western Australia where miners could pick chunks of gold the size of your fist off the side of a hill. These successive gold world. And at the famous "Golden Miles" in rushes brougth thousands to the continent and the population doubled in about 7 years. It may seem strange that 3 million square miles of land-about as many as there are in the United States-have only 7 million people living on them. But there's good reason for it.

Only the fringes, the coastal regions, are fertile enough for good farming. A little less than half of all the land is dry and only a quarter of that is fit for pasture land under normal conditions. About a third of the country is good grassland for cattle and sheep raising. And a fifth is fair-to-middling farming country. Then there is a tropical and semi-tropical region along the east coast of Queensland and iin the northeast section.

The seasons in Australia, because it is in the Southern Hemisphere, are just the opposite of ours. Summer is in December, January, and February; fall comes in March, April, and May; winter comes in June, July, and August and spring in our football season, September, October, and November. There's a signpost in Melbourne, Australia's second largest city that gives a pretty god idea of the bigness of the continent. It reads:

Cairns. . . .2,614 miles.
Brisbane. . . .1,349 miles.
Sydney. . . .682 miles.

Likes Americans, Australians can travel thousands of miles in a straight line and still be in their own country. From Darwin in the north to Tasmania, the island state, just across the Bass Strait from Melbourne is 2,200 miles. And from Brisbane on the east coast to Perth on the Indian Ocean is another 2,000 miles or so. Because of all that space, a lot of people get the idea that Australians live mostly on farms or on sheep and cattle stations ranches). They don't. Most Australians live in the coast cities. One third of all the people living in the two largest, Sydney and Melbourne. And the greater part of them make their living in industry.

In the southeast and the east are the best farming, cattle, and sheep ranch. And most of Australia's industry. And there are the continent's highest mountains, the Great Dividing Range. With large forests and good skiing in winter.

I'VE READ ALL YOUR COMICS. DO YOU AND PEGGY, (YOUR REAL GIRLFRIEND), REALLY LOOK LIKE YOU DO IN THE COMIC BOOKS? YOU ARE CUTE AND SHE IS PRETTY. I THINK YOU MAKE A GOOD COUPLE. IF YOU DON'T LOOK LIKE THAT, I BET YOU AND SHE ARE CUTE AND PRETTY ANYWAY.

MARY JO HAASE

DEAR MARY JO,

PEGGY IS AS PRETTY IN REAL LIFE AS SHE IS IN THE COMICS. I AM MUCH MORE HANDSOME THAN I APPEAR IN THE COMICS... THE ARTIST, JON D'AGOSTINO, WHO DRAWS FREDDY COMICS, IS JEALOUS OF ME. (HEH, HEH) I HOPE HE DOESN'T RUB ME OUT! (GET IT?)

I TOLD PEGGY THAT YOU THINK WE ARE A GOOD-LOOKING COUPLE AND SHE ASKED ME TO THANK YOU FOR HER.

SINCERELY,

Freddy

DEAR FREDDY
